- Start the day off right by eating breakfast
- Eat your evening meal together as a family most nights
- Read to your young children every day
- Limit the amount of time your children spend watching TV
- Set aside some time each day for your child to play or exercise each day
- Find an appropriate number of extracurricular activities
- Help your child to acquire solid organizational skills
- Communicate on a regular basis with their teachers
- Praise your child for working hard when they are learning rather than for being smart
- Learn how to get involved and attend most school functions
- Spend fun quality time with your children
- Speak positively about teachers and education in front of your children
