I CAN...

Begin to copy or write name
Follow 2-3 step directions

Hop on one foot

Dress myself with little assistance

Put together a 7-12 piece puzzle

Retell my favorite stories

Have favorite activities and playmates

Understand simple rules

Share and take turns, but am possessive of favorite toys

Begin to control frustration

Identify and name common shapes

Recognize and name some letters of the alphabet

Use words to resolve conflict

MY FAMILY CAN...

- Read books together about shapes, numbers and other concepts
- Let me make meaningful choices every day
- Pay attention to me when I am talking
- Give me opportunities to play with other children
- Encourage me to try new things and solve problems
- Provide me with a warm loving relationship
- Model positive ways to interact with others
- Ask questions that encourage me to think about what I see and hear
- Point out signs and names of things
- Use mealtime and other daily routines as an opportunity for conversation
- Make physical activity part of everyday
- Repeat nursery rhymes and play word games with me
- Provide me with writing materials, markers, pencils, and paper

No two children develop, grow or learn the same way or things at the same pace. They do, however, develop in predictable ways.

If you are concerned about your child's growth, development or learning, we encourage you to talk to a professional.
